FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Cleveland, Ohio

Cleveland Magician and Illusionist Rick Smith Jr. to appear on H2 Stan Lee's Superhumans airing September 10th, 2014.

A Guinness World Record holder for card throwing, Rick Smith Jr. joins the ranks of others who perform extraordinary feats during the September 10th episode of H2's "Stan Lee's Superhumans."

"Stan Lee's Superhumans" airs on H2™ at 10E/11P on September 10th will explore the possibility that the Cleveland Ohio magician and illusionist Rick Smith Jr. is a superhuman in addition to already being a widely recognized Guinness World Record holder.

It's the third year of the show with Stan Lee, who scours the globe for the real-life counterparts to his comic book icons. He is the legendary co-creator of X-Men™, Iron Man™, Spiderman™ and The Avengers™, and CCO/Founder of POW! Entertainment.

Known for throwing cards like the X-Men Gambit character, Rick will test his accuracy against a marksman, his speed against an archer and will attempt to out-throw a pro football kicker.

"I like challenges and this show provides a unique and entertaining forum," says Rick, known for throwing a playing card 216 feet 4 inches at 92 miles per hour. "I appreciate that I have a new opportunity to showcase the art of card throwing."

About Stan Lee's Superhumans
